Terms and Conditions: Aperture aims to maintain the highest level of care when developing and printing your films. In the event of loss or damage to your film, negatives or prints whilst in our care, from any cause, our liability will be limited to the cost of replacing the film, which we undertake to develop and print free of charge. This does not affect your statutory rights as a consumer. Please note that Aperture is providing a consumer service and does not accept any additional responsibility for material of a professional or commercial value.
Copyright: It is a criminal offence under the Copyright Designs and Patents Act 1988 knowingly to infringe copyright and it is the customer's responsibility to ensure that all material supplied to Aperture for processing, copying or reproduction is free from any third party claim of copyright infringement. Orders are accepted on the clear understanding of the following:
 • The customer owns the copyright or that the work is out of copyright.
 • The customer has the copyright owner's written consent, in which case the written consent must accompany the order and work supplied.
 • The customer undertakes to indemnify Aperture against all costs, claims, damages and losses of any nature arising from any action or claim brought by a third party in respect of alleged infringement of copyright.
